Widows of Vets Eligible For Loans from Government

It is possible for certain widows of war veterans to obtain GI loans, according to Helen K. Dill, director of the Veterans Service Center.

She said that if a World War II or Korea veteran was killed in action or died of service-connected causes, his unmarried widow's entitlement to a GI loan is clearly stated in the law.

"Moreover," she added, "if a veteran with a service-connected disability obtained a GI loan and then died as a result of the disability, his widow is entitled to another loan guaranty all over again. VA regulations say that in such cases any entitlement which the deceased veteran already used has no bearing on the amount of entitlement available to his widow. She may have only one GI loan at a time, however."

"It is understood, of course, that the widow applying for a GI loan in such a case has not married again."

"However," continued Mrs. Dill, "if a woman is a veteran GI loan rights and doesn't get additional benefits because she is a widow."

Two deadlines to get GI loans now prevail, applying equally to veterans and their survivors: for World War II veterans and their widows, the deadline is July 25, 1957; in the case of Korea veterans, the deadline is January 31, 1955.

Information for veterans and their dependents on home loans and other matters is available without obligation at Torrance Area Veteran Service Center located at 1622 Gramercy Ave., Torrance, a Community Chest agency.

Trash Pickup Plans for LA Strip Studied

Weekly collection by Los Angeles of combustible rubbish in the Harbor area at $1 per month was given the go-ahead last week by Mayor Norris Poulson.

Poulson informed the City Council he had approved a $198,050 appropriation to begin a pilot-plan for combustible rubbish collection south of 120th St.

About 110,000 persons in San Pedro, Wilmington and the Shoestring Strip would be charged $1 monthly for the service.

The plan will not go into effect until it receives the approval of the Council's finance and public works committee.

The public works committee met Monday in city council chambers to study the mayor's proposal for municipal collection.

Poulson's action setting the stage for the collection of combustible rubbish came after he charged Eastern rackets would move into the city if private collectors took over the combustible disposal program.

Marymount May Dance Fete Slated

Five performances of Marymount of Palos Verdes annual May Dance and Music Festival to be held at the school are scheduled this week end.

First performance actually will be in advance of the week end and will be a special preview this afternoon for faculty and students registered for next year's classes. Two more performances are scheduled Saturday, and the final two on Sunday, May 22. These five showings are necessary to accommodate the 1000 spectators to whom invitations have been issued.

This year's performance, titled "Fantasy in Fragrance," consists of an integrated program of dances of varied types, including ballet, tap, soft shoe, and ballroom. Each dance will represent a symbolic interpretation of the name of a perfume and will be executed against a background of special floral arrangements. Decorated bird cages will swing high above the pirouetting dancers.

All students of Marymount from classes one through 11 will participate in the program, directed by Stover-Lane studio.

Pardon Finn Twins, Hahn Urges Ike

A personal plea for an "immediate and full pardon" for the Finn twins was sent this week by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn to President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Granting of the pardon would be "in the best interests of justice," Supervisor Hahn declared in his letter to the President.

"I believe that the Finn twins should never have been put in jail because of a technicality of the law in their case," Supervisor Hahn continued.

"If there was a mistake by the Finn twins regarding their purchase of a surplus airplane from a school district in California, and if they used poor judgment in exercising a citizen's arrest on the United States Attorney in Los Angeles, certainly this does not justify a long prison sentence in the Federal Penitentiary," his letter concluded.
